The Stones

Nicky Haslam for Paint The Town Green

Nicky Haslam's first ever paint collaboration, The Stones, is a collection of sophisticated colours that Haslam says he has "always loved" but not been able to find in existing ranges.

It is inspired by gemstones and minerals and by Paint The Town Green's eco-friendly ethos. Our paints have no toxic fumes or nasty smell.

“The main point of decoration is to make people look prettier. That’s what it’s all about really and these are very flattering colours. Each one in a way echoes the other. They’ve got depth but not fragility and they’re all natural. They’re designed as perfect backgrounds for people, pictures and ornaments.”
